Aficionado for a lifetime

The founder of HENK, Heiko Poerz, Aficionado for over 40 years and 20 years also active in the cigar business, decided to implement his entire know-how and wishes for a perfect cigar in a separate line. Because of his experience and personal preferences, only a cigar from Nicaragua could be considered.

Through his friendship with Didier Houvenaghel and AJ Fernandez he got help from two excellent and competent players in the industry. Didier, studied cigar harvesting in Cuba and is best known for his successful brands Nicarao, La Ley and Pitbull. AJ, one of the best blenders in the world of cigars, is just as outstanding with his brands San Lotano, New World, Enclave and many other boutique blends. He is also responsible for the production of Didier Houvenaghel's cigars.

The first cigar was a Gran Robusto with a 55mm ring size. A delicate cigar with nutty aromas, spicy herbs and delicate sweetness with a very creamy smoke. Later on, roasted, leathery and nutty flavors with caramel sweetness. Super ash, perfectly rolled. Medium +.

On a scale from 1-10, Didier Houvenaghel rated the cigar with a „7“ for strength. So rather a cigar for the late hours, when one has much leisure for the enjoyment of such a masterpiece.

The name

The name and the logo engraved in every cigar goes back to the name finding that Heiko and Didier had on Nikoi Island (2 hours away from Singapore). Together with another friend, they smoked some of the final Puros and were searching for a suitable name. At the sight of the wrapper in this cozy sunset overlooking the skin color of the friend, who belonged to the Maori ethnical group, the three aficionados agreed that HENK MAORI would be a really good name.

At the sight of the splendid Tatoos from his friend and the explanation on the meaning and origin of the Tatoos - In connection with the traditional ceremonial dance the „HAKA“ seen in Rugby - the name was perfect. Since Poerz was also one of the first to laser cigars in Europe, he commissioned the best Maori tattoo artist to create a logo that means happiness, success and power. The result is now found on every cigar and also as a gold coin on the spectacular boxes.

The future

In 2018, HENK launched another two sizes, the La Doña & the Masterpiece. In 2020, HENK launched 3 new sizes, the Gaudini, the Willy and the Gaudi. And there are more to come ...

The Willy

Edición Limitada 2020

28€/140€/280€

94

Wrapper: Nicaragua
Binder: Nicaragua
Filler: Nicaragua
Hecho 2009

130 x 19,84 • 5 x 50 l Robusto

The price for the 5-count box is 140€ and the refill box is 280€, the price per cigar is 28€.

The Willy starts with a spicy but still fruity red chilli note, oakwood, walnuts and cacao. In the 2nd third it loses the spice and keeps to oakwood, nutty and cacao with a nutmeg spice note. The 3rd thirds had hints of medium roasted coffee that hugs the cacao meanwhile the nutty and nutmeg notes step into the background. Draw and ash are as perfect as you know from all HENK Maori cigars.

The bone

travel humidor

from 168,00€

Everything you need ...

when you travel with your cigars:

HENK's new creation, the bone.

Space for six cigars, your lighter, cutter, scissors and matches.

Perfect humidification with boveda® within the two integrated, removable cigar cases, both designed to store three cigars with a ring gauge of max. 60 and a length of max. 19 cm or 16 cm for the RT versions. Lastly, the cigarbone comes with an integrated ashtray. All this with incredibly small measurements: 20 (17 RT) x 9 x 7,5 cm!

Typical for HENK, the bone is made of robust and finest materials, such as carbon fiber reinforced PTEG, finest leathers of your own choice and solid aluminum lids. Also a starter version (without carbon fiber and only one solid aluminium lids, non removable inner cigar cases) starting at 168€.

DeLuxe

RT

Due to its clever interior design, you have an abundance of choices to store the industry's most popular lighters and cutters, as well as scissors and additional matches or an extra cigar punch. All accessories are stored within the bone, while the cigars stay safely secured in their own humidified, sturdy and removable compartments.

The functional design of the bone enables it to be used as a cigar bank, while you enjoy a cigar. The lid doubles as an elegant solid aluminium ashtray.

The two integrated cigar cases with boveda® humidification are easily removable for separate usage.

Thanks to their intelligent layout, you can close the cases with the integrated lid, usable for cigars up to a length of 19 (RT versions 16) cm.

HENK is known for their limitless options for creating bespoke masterpieces. The bone is no exception to this philosophy. You can choose special leathers in nearly every color, as well as lids from exceptionally exclusive materials, such as real gold or platinum, branded with your personal logo or monogram.

The Puro nero RT is the cheapest way to own a bone. The main body and the upper lid are from solid PTEG. The ashtray is made out a block of solid aluminium. The cigars are perfect humidified in the inner, non removable cigar cases. The price is 168€.

The Puro nero is a 3cm higher version of our entry line. The main body and the upper lid are from solid PTEG. The ashtray is made out a block of solid aluminium. The cigars are perfect humidified in the inner, non removable cigar cases. The price is 198€.

The DeLuxe bone is available in two sizes, the RT is for Robusto & Toro sizes up to 16cm length and the standard DeLuxe for cigars up to 19cm. The main body and the upper lid are from solid carbon reinforced PTEG. The ashtray and the upper lid are made out of block of solid aluminium. The cigars are perfect humidified in the inner, removable cigar cases.

The DeLuxe versions are available for the beginning in three colors: black, saddle brown and camouflage. In the beginning of 2020 much more colors will be available. The price is starting at 398€. And a couple of bespoke personalisations are available such Monogram's, Logo's ore different lid colors f.e. in gold or gun metal.

The HENK cigar Tee

golf ball cigar holder

9,90€/12,90€

Classic

Pro-version

Clever design and high functionality also make this „simple“ product a real HENK product.

The cigars fit in up to a 60 ring gauge. And the golf tee can be removed and screwed into the ball with the pointed side. This takes up little space and you can't get injured. We designed the thread of the golf tee so that you can use it to pierce cigars if necessary. The Pro version also has a magnetic ball marker.

And with the optionally available bag holder, you can also attach the cigar holder to your bag.

The HENK MAORI golf ball holder is not only available in almost infinite colors, the Pro version can also be customized with your logo. Just ask us about the possibilities. Individual pieces are also feasible.
